Next Sunday is the 125th anniversary of the Congregational church at Charlotte, and a special program is to be given.

Dr. William Stickney of Rutland has been ordered to Fort Upton, Yaphank, L. I., where he is to be chief of surgical service in the camp hospital with rank of lieutenant.

Burlington has a case of polio, the illness of Mary Ellen, 26-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Munson, having been diagnosed as that last Saturday. The case is a very light one.

Dr. M. G. Benedict, former principal of St. Johnsbury academy, has accepted a position with the Ward law school at Plainfield, N. J., a private school for boys. He had been with St. Johnsbury academy for eight years.

Mrs. Helen Martin of White River Junction has been made supervisor of music in the public schools of that place, succeeding Miss Adella Estabrook, now of Leominster, Mass., who had held the position for nine years.

Miss Elizabeth Blake of St. Johnsbury, formerly of Peacham, has taught 80 terms of school in eight counties and has attended summer school ten different times. She received her teacher's certificate when but 15 years of age.

Rev. R. W. Collins of Moscow observed the 85th anniversary of his birth Sept. 4. Although not robust in health, he has worked on his farm all summer. He has pitched on all the hay and helped mow it away. He also bound the wheat on a field harvested last week.

Miss Elizabeth M. Hennessey, a professional nurse in Brattleboro since 1911, has been engaged as superintendent of a new private hospital in Lyons, N. Y. Miss Hennessey for a time was assistant to Miss Mary E. Schumacher, superintendent of the Brattleboro hospital. Her home is in Dorchester, Mass.

George M. Smith, who has been superintendent of the card room of the woolen mills at Winoski, has been promoted as agent of the new mill of the American Woolen company at Lowell, Mass. His fellow workers at Winoski a few days ago presented him a $20 gold piece, a watch box and a Masonic emblem as a charm.

James d'Aivignon of Ausable Forks, N. Y., has brought suit for $5,000 in Rutland county court for loss of services and money paid out in medical treatment and hospital bills for his wife, Mrs. Zeta d'Aivignon, who was injured, it is charged, when the motor of E. E. Keyes of Rutland went through a fence and struck Mrs. d'Aivignon.

The ordination of Lyndon B. Beardslee as pastor of the Congregational church in Dummerston takes place this evening, following a council of churches. A brother, Rev. C. L. Beardslee of Southington, Conn., will read the scripture lesson and another brother, Rev. Raymond A. Beardslee of Springfield, will offer the ordaining prayer.

A horse owned by Roy Badger of Danville became frightened while standing on the street at St. Johnsbury Monday and ran away. It sidestepped an auto driven by John Cook, crumpling one fender and almost tearing off one mudguard. The wagon was completely demolished and the horse was badly cut. No one was in the wagon when the horse ran.

The rural mail carriers of Caledonia county held their annual outing at Joe's pond Monday. At the business meeting the following officers were elected: President, Harris Allen, Lyndonville; vice-president, P. C. Willard, Passumpsic; secretary and treasurer, V. B. Blake of West Denville; delegates to the annual state convention, V. B. Blake of West Denville and L. L. Wells of St. Johnsbury.

A three-year-old Jersey heifer, lost from the herd of F. M. Small of Morrisville recently, was found six days later in a hole made by a large tree blowing over, at the foot of a steep embankment. The animal was nearly famished, as she was nearly buried in dirt, which had been shaken from the roots of the tree. After a few days' care, the Jersey was in a normal condition.

Charles H. Spaulding of Burlington, agent for the Burlington Rendering company, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with Clerk F. S. Platt of the United States court. He has liabilities of $3,023.44 and assets of $3,023.44, with $700 claimed exempt. The larger Burlington creditors are: Dr. W. A. Lyman, $35; Burlington Grocery company, $125; Red 46 store, $49; Ideal Garage company, $45; J. A. Corbin, $30; F. E. Perkins, $26.19.

A Ford car belonging to Bert W. Wright of Bellows Falls was stolen from in front of the Hotel Windham in that place about midnight Monday night. The car was recovered at Fitzwilliam, N. H., and the two men who were in it, George Lovell, 19, and Eugene Desrosier, 18, both claiming to be working in Claremont, N. H., were placed in jail at Winchester, Mass. The Vermont number plate on the car had been removed, and a New Hampshire one was substituted.

The new flotation mill of the Vermont Copper company at South Stratford will be ready for occupancy by Oct. 1. The building is of frame construction, three stories in height, with a pitch roof and a length of nearly 125 feet. With its installation of machinery complete it will have a capacity for the handling of 100 tons of raw ore per day. At the present time 45 men are at work in the mines and plant. During the month ended Sept. 1, a total of 150 tons of high grade ore were shipped from the mines and near to this amount will continue to be shipped each month.

A peculiar accident happened near Middlebury a few days ago as Dr. Samuel Sheldon, who spends his summers there, George Shambo and Harry Cobb were motoring. Mr. Cobb was running the car, when something struck him in the eye and he cried out with pain. Mr. Shambo thought a wasp had struck Mr. Cobb, as he had seen some in the air, but on looking into the bottom of the car, there was a dead English sparrow. The bird had struck Cobb's eye with such force that the concussion brought death to the sparrow and a badly discolored and painful optic to Mr. Cobb.

E. M. Saunders is to have set on his lawn in Middlebury a large memorial marker of Barre granite on which, on a tablet of bronze, will be the following inscription: "In this house, the home of Samuel Miller, Esq., September 30, 1708, Timothy Dwight, president of Yale college, counseled with Gamaliel Painter and other citizens of Middlebury concerning the founding of Middlebury college. This conference led to the granting of the charter of Middlebury college, November 1, 1800, and the appointment of Jeremiah Atwater as the first president."

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roche and W. J. Keating of Northampton, Mass., and Miss Bettie Ferris of Ticonderoga, N. Y., narrowly escaped death at Cuttingsville Saturday evening, when the seven-passenger Velle automobile in which they were riding went over an embankment. There had been a hard thunder shower, which washed the highway and when the big car turned out for a Ford, the ground gave way and let it over the bank. The Ford did not stop. All the occupants were buried under the car, but the top was up and that probably saved their lives.

WANT 20 PER CENT INCREASE

Yard Men and Teamsters of Shepard & Morse Lumber Company Strike.

Burlington, Sept. 5.—Most of the yard men, including teamsters, and a number of the men employed in the mill of the Shepard & Morse Lumber company refused to go to work yesterday morning, following the non-compliance of the management with the demands, made last Friday, for an increase of 20 per cent in wages with Saturday afternoon off throughout the year. Yesterday a committee appointed by the workmen called on Superintendent Gale to talk over a compromise, but no agreement was reached. The mill is still in operation, but with a very badly crippled force and most of the lumber in the yard is being handled by bosses and those who are employed on a straight wage scale throughout the year.

The wage for men at Shepard's now is $2 per day, with a number receiving more than that. The day means a day of 10 hours with Saturday afternoons off during the summer. During the winter months it has always been the custom, with few exceptions, to cut the day to shorter hours and that means that the men will not receive what they are getting now.

The ordination of Lyndon B. Beardslee as pastor of the Congregational church in Dummerston takes place this evening, following a council of churches. A brother, Rev. C. L. BURLINGTON MAY USE BARRE GRANITE IN STREETS

Burlington Street Commissioner Considering Project of Hauling Refuse From Quarries to That City.

Burlington, Sept. 5.—Representatives of granite concerns in Barre have been in the city conferring with Superintendent of Streets J. W. Coffey and the street commissioners in regard to the possibility of furnishing crushed granite to the city of Burlington for surfacing streets.

The supply of crushed stone for this work is running very low because help cannot be secured to manufacture it at the local ledges, and something must be done soon to get a sufficient amount for the city's needs. It appears that there are tons upon tons of granite refuse piling up in the Barre granite yards which the manufacturers are glad enough to get rid of at no cost to the man who takes it away. The stone is not crushed fine enough, however, for purposes desired. The proposition that the street commissioners are considering is to have the stone crushed at Barre and loaded into cars and transported to Burlington. The cost of crushing and freight to this city, it is believed, would be less than the crushed stone which has been used for many years has. The question is, according to the superintendent, whether or not the granite would be as durable as the other.

STATE GRAND LIST IS $2,530,860.40

An Increase of $37,000 Over 1916—Personal Property Valued at $2,500,000 More.

Northfield, Sept. 4.—The commissioner of taxes has completed and transmitted to the secretary of state and state treasurer the grand list of the state, which under the state law must be prepared from the abstract on file in his office on or before the first day of October.

The grand list of the several counties, unorganized towns and gores has also been completed and was transmitted to the several county treasurers on Saturday.

The grand list of the state totals $2,530,860.40, the largest grand list in the history of the state, an increase of $37,000 in round numbers over the grand list of 1916, notwithstanding the fact that the deduction on account of debts owing for the year 1917 exceeded the deduction on account of debts owing for the year 1916 by $833,000, in round numbers. It is also to be noted that there are 106,000 polls in 1917 as against 198,000 for 1916.

The valuation of personal property for 1917 shows an increase of $2,500,000, in round numbers, over that for 1916, and the appraised valuation of real estate in 1917 shows an increase of around $2,000,000 for 1916. The grand list shows $253,000,000 worth of real and personal property subject to local taxation. The grand list for 1917, after deducting $3,203,826 worth of offsets exceeds by $16,000 the grand list for 1916, amounting to
